

2015 Survivor and Caregiver Resource Guide

Are you ready to celebrate?

STEPS

There comes a time in this life,
When we wonder if we should stop.
It seems we are fighting an uphill battle.
Will we ever reach the top?
The road to curing cancer is long.
The road to giving up is very short.
But because we believe in our cause,
This is not a battle we will abort.
When fighting for something important,
It is sometimes hard to keep our will,
But we have to remember taking steps
Is much better than standing still.
When taking steps on the road to success,
The journey sometimes goes slow,
But as long as our feet are in motion,
Who knows how far we can go.
It is time to walk with passion,
With each of these steps we take.
If we can just keep moving,
What a difference we can make.
Taking step, after step, after step,
We are moving in the right direction.
And with every small step,
We are that much closer to perfection.
As we continue to take more steps,
Eventually cancer will be left behind,
Because by traveling down this road,
A cure for cancer is what we will find.

WELCOME

This Survivor and Caregiver Resource Guide was created to help survivors and caregivers find medical and emotional support, education, assistance with day-to-day needs, and a connection to people who share an experience with cancer.

No matter where you are in your journey, you may have many important decisions to make. Making those decisions will become easier when you have the information you need about the disease and about support services in our community that are available to you and your family.

Resources and services are available through many organizations. We have included resources from a wide range of community organizations and agencies in this guide.

You will find information from the American Cancer Society, Pierce County's two largest health systems—CHI Franciscan Health and MultiCare—and a host of local community resources. We have also included online resources that can provide useful specific information related to many different types of cancer. This Resource Guide is a work in progress—we hope to keep adding more resources as part of our effort to be of some help to all survivors and caregivers.

We dedicate this guide to survivors and caregivers everywhere—you are true heroes.

Inclusion in this guide does not infer an endorsement by the American Cancer Society.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY RESOURCES

The American Cancer Society

No matter who you are...we can help

The American Cancer Society recognizes that the cancer experience varies among the people whose lives have been touched by this disease. This is why we have created and tailored our programs and services to help alleviate some of the confusion and to address the unique needs of cancer patients and loved ones. We are here to offer support and we're confident that no matter who you are...we can help!

Provided in this guide are the programs and events the American Cancer Society provides in the South Puget Sound. Our mission and goal is to eliminate cancer as a major health problem by preventing cancer, saving lives, and diminishing suffering from cancer through research, education, advocacy and services.

Your South Puget Sound staff partners, in tandem with the thousands of volunteers, are dedicated to supporting you by providing the resources, programs and events (and hugs) to serve cancer patients, caregivers and families, and the communities in which we live.

Your local American Cancer Society office is located in downtown Tacoma at 1313 Broadway, Suite. 100, Tacoma, WA 98402. Please feel free visit us, or call us directly at 253-272-5368, or 1-800-227-2345. We are here to help! Thank you for supporting your American Cancer Society.

1-800-ACS-2345 (1-800-227-2345)

No matter who you are, the American Cancer Society information center, staffed by cancer information specialists, will answer questions about cancer symptoms, treatments, research, local patient services, community programs, and volunteer opportunities. Call anytime 24-hours a day 7-days a week.

Multiple languages are available for those that do not speak English.

www.cancer.org

The American Cancer Society web site is an interactive, online cancer resource center containing in-depth information on every major type of cancer, free publications, and access to recent news and research articles. The site also offers information about nationwide and local events and volunteer opportunities, all presented in an attractive, easy-to-navigate format. Select content is also available in Spanish.

ACS CAN –Advocacy

The American Cancer Society Cancer Action Network (ACS CAN) is the nonprofit, nonpartisan sister advocacy organization of the American Cancer Society. ACS CAN is dedicated to eliminating cancer as a major public health problem through issue campaigns and voter education aimed at influencing lawmakers and candidates to support laws and policies that will help people fight cancer. ACS CAN does not endorse candidates and is not a political action committee.

ACS CAN gives hope and power to everyone who cares about cancer and wants their government to act. Together, we CAN make our voices heard. Together, we CAN defeat cancer.

www.acscan.org

Patient Navigators

The American Cancer Society Patient Navigators are professionals dedicated to helping newly diagnosed cancer patients, their families and caregivers navigate their cancer experience. All of our American Cancer Society Patient Navigators are able to assist with a variety of requests, including: cancer information, community-based resources, transportation, lodging, nutritional information and free wigs. To connect with an American Cancer Society Patient Navigator, please call 1-800-227-2345.

Cancer Resource Centers (CRCs)

The American Cancer Society offers face-to-face cancer information and resources to individuals, service organizations and medical communities, from trained ACS volunteers. Located at St Joseph Medical Center, the CRCs provide knowledgeable information about American Cancer Society programs, community and health resources, general and site-specific cancers.

Currently, Cancer Resource Centers are offered at St. Joseph Medical Center in partnership with the American Cancer Society. MultiCare also offers a Cancer Resource Center at the Katterhagan Cancer Center at Tacoma General and at Good Samaritan Hospital in Puyallup. These services are free to the community. The Cancer Resource Center is always looking for dedicated volunteers, to continue to serve more patients with information and support. Please contact the CRC with questions, to make an appointment for a wig fit, or if you are interested in volunteering, at 253-426-4237.

Quality of Life Programs

These are free and essential services offered to cancer patients, families and caregivers to improve the quality of life while going through cancer. These programs include Look Good...Feel Better, Reach to Recovery and Road to Recovery. We encourage all cancer patients, survivors, caregivers, friends and family members to utilize or volunteer to support these valuable programs.

Look Good...Feel Better

Women with cancer learn makeup and skincare techniques to offset the appearance-related effects of chemotherapy and radiation. Participants experience increased self-confidence and knowledge of self-care.

Volunteer beauty professionals lead small groups, usually consisting of six to 10 women, through practical, hands-on experience. Women learn about makeup techniques, skincare, nail care, and options related to hair loss such as wigs, turbans, and scarves. Each group program participant receives a free kit of cosmetics for use during and after the workshop. Look Good...Feel Better programs are currently held at six different locations in Pierce County and at numerous other locations in surrounding counties. Please call the American Cancer Society at 1-800-227-2345 to find out program schedules.

Reach to Recovery

The American Cancer Society Reach to Recovery program has been helping breast cancer patients (female and male) cope with their breast cancer experience for more than 30 years. This experience begins when someone is faced with breast cancer diagnosis and continues throughout the entire period that breast cancer remains a personal concern.

Volunteers who are breast cancer survivors give patients and family members an opportunity to express feelings, talk about fears and concerns, and ask questions of someone who is knowledgeable and level-headed. Most importantly, Reach to Recovery volunteers offer understanding, support, and hope because they themselves have survived breast cancer and gone on to live normal, productive lives.

Reach to Recovery Volunteers

Are you a breast cancer survivor who has overcome cancer to regain a well-adjusted and emotionally stable everyday life? Are you warm, courteous, tactful, and considerate, with the ability to maintain confidentiality? Would you like to make a difference in the lives of others affected by breast cancer? Call us toll-free at 1-800-227-2345, or call your local American Cancer Society office at 253-272-5368 to become a Reach to Recovery volunteer.

Road to Recovery

Volunteer drivers donate their time and resources to take patients needing assistance to and from their doctor appointments and cancer treatments. Please call 1-800-227-2345 to schedule a ride.

Road to Recovery Volunteers

We are actively recruiting volunteer drivers to provide services in Pierce County. Please call our local American Cancer Society office at 253-272-5368 and speak to the Mission Delivery Specialist to find out how you can be a Road to Recovery Volunteer. Thank you!

Discovery Shops

We're looking for you! Customers are the heart of the Discovery Shops. Our stores have great prices on gently used clothing, housewares, collectibles and furniture. Our goal is to raise money for cancer research. The Discovery Shops are run entirely by volunteers. We are always looking for new people to join our team. Hospice and Palliative Care

Should you or a family member find yourself living with a life-limiting illness, we can support you and provide care through the changes and challenges until the end of life.

Hospice is appropriate when curative treatment is no longer effective or desired, and the focus of care turns to comfort and maintaining the quality of life when life expectancy is determined to be six months or less. Palliative Care may be appropriate before Hospice is a consideration. In fact, Palliative Care can be helpful as soon as you are diagnosed with a life-limiting illness.

Palliative Care helps bridge the gap between the time a person is diagnosed with an illness and the time they become eligible for hospice services. Patients who have an advanced illness and a prognosis greater than six months, typically approximately 12-18 months, may benefit from this program. Palliative care takes place in your home or within a facility, including Franciscan Hospice House.

Franciscan Hospice and Palliative Care is the largest, most comprehensive provider of hospice and palliative care in the Puget Sound providing services in King, Pierce and Kitsap counties. Our goal is to help persons with advanced life-limiting illnesses to live each day with comfort and meaning and to retain individuality and control over their lives.

People with brain tumors and other brain disorders have new hope for effective treatment, close to home on the campus of St. Joseph Medical Center. Gamma Knife stereotactic radiosurgery is really not a knife at all, but instead employs a one-time dose of highly targeted radiation without harm to surrounding tissues.

The latest Gamma Knife system, Perfexion™, is available at St. Joseph. Gamma Knife provides a safe and effective alternative to conventional surgery in treating a number of brain disorders: malignant and benign tumors, including multiple metastatic tumors; vascular disorders; trigeminal neuralgia; and essential tremor. Only Gamma Knife is uniquely designed for use in the brain.

Patients may be candidates for Gamma Knife even if they previously had open brain surgery, radiation or chemotherapy. In fact, Gamma Knife may be the only viable treatment option when illness or advanced age prohibits traditional brain surgery. Treatment typically involves a one-time outpatient session. Patients remain awake, experience little discomfort, and usually return to normal activities within 48 hours.

Gamma Knife treatment is covered by Medicare and most insurance plans. To learn more, visit us online at ww.SouthSoundGammaKnife.com or call 253-284-2438 or toll-free 1-866-254-3353.

The Latest Treatment Technologies, Expert Cancer Specialists

When you're facing cancer, you want the most up-to-date, effective treatments available. And that's exactly what you get at the MultiCare Regional Cancer Center. We offer such leading-edge cancer treatment technologies as:

Stereotactic Radiosurgery: Greater precision in cancer treatment

MultiCare was the first health system in the South Puget Sound region to offer the CyberKnife for patients with hard-to-treat tumors. We were also the first to offer image-guided, stereotactic linear accelerator treatment on the Varian® Trilogy System. Stereotactic radiosurgery is a form of radiation therapy that uses 3-D computer imaging to attack tumors and lesions with an extremely precise dose of radiation. (Location: MultiCare Tacoma General Hospital)

Partial Breast Radiation: Shorter treatment time

This sophisticated new radiation treatment offers a more individualized treatment for early-stage breast cancer in women. Partial breast radiation is a short course of radiation therapy given after a lumpectomy. We offer two kinds of partial breast radiation at MultiCare Regional Cancer Center: MammoSite and SAVI Radiation Therapy System (RTS)—which uses internal catheters to deliver a concentrated dose of radiation to tumors. This allows physicians to tailor radiation and can potentially reduce side effects. Treatments are done on an outpatient basis so there's less interruption in your daily routine. We're one of the first facilities in the Pacific Northwest to offer these treatments. (Location: MultiCare Tacoma General Hospital)

Intensity Modulated Radiation Therapy (IMRT): Precision radiation therapy

Intensity Modulated Radiation Therapy (IMRT) more precisely targets a cancerous tumor while sparing the healthy surrounding tissue. Image-guided technology helps the IMRT team map the location, shape and size of a tumor and determine the ideal amount of radiation to use. This method has proven most effective for tumors in the prostate, liver, head, neck and lungs. IMRT may be a useful treatment option if you've previously been treated with conventional radiation therapy for breast cancer, and are experiencing recurrent tumors in the treated area. (Location: MultiCare Tacoma General Hospital)

Rapid Arc Radiotherapy Technology: Increases precision, reduces treatment time

MultiCare Regional Cancer Center is one of very few facilities in the world offering the Rapid Arc radiation treatment. The Rapid Arc radiotherapy technology from Varian Medical Systems is a fast form of precise radiotherapy that targets tumors quickly and accurately while minimizing exposure of surrounding healthy tissue. What would normally take about 10 minutes can be done in 90 seconds. Moreover, the patient often experiences fewer side effects than with traditional radiation therapy. (Location: MultiCare Tacoma General Hospital, MultiCare Gig Harbor Medical Park)

da Vinci® Surgical System: Smaller incisions, unmatched precision

The da Vinci® Surgical System for Cancer Treatment enables surgeons to operate with unmatched precision and control using only a few small incisions. This minimally invasive robot-assisted surgical technique offers a number of benefits, including significantly less pain and blood loss, fewer complications, less scarring, a shorter hospital stay and a faster return to normal daily activities. At MultiCare Regional Cancer Center, our gynecologic oncologists are trained robotic-assisted surgeons. A da Vinci® prostatectomy allows surgeons to bypass nerves linked to sexual function and urinary incontinence. Men who have this kind of prostate-removal surgery experience significantly faster recovery times for erectile function and urinary control when compared to traditional, open prostatectomies. For most women, da Vinci® hysterectomy can offer numerous potential benefits over traditional approaches to vaginal, laparoscopic or open abdominal hysterectomy, particularly when performing radical hysterectomies for gynecologic cancer. A da Vinci® hysterectomy uses robotic-assisted technology to do a radical hysterectomy through a few small incisions rather than a large traditional incision. This leads to faster recovery for patients. (Location: MultiCare Tacoma General Hospital, MultiCare Good Samaritan Hospital, MultiCare Allenmore Hospital)

A Team of Dedicated Medical Professionals

When you come to MultiCare Regional Cancer Center you're cared for by a team of experts that can include a surgeon, medical oncologist, radiation oncologist, gynecological oncologist, researcher, pharmacist, advanced registered nurse practitioner, physician assistant, nurse navigator, social worker, registered dietician (RD), naturopath and acupuncturist.

Not only are these providers among the most knowledgeable in their fields, they're caring, compassionate and sensitive to both your physical and emotional condition as you undergo diagnosis and cancer treatment. At MultiCare Regional Cancer Center no one goes through cancer alone.

Thanks to MultiCare Connect, our secure electronic health record system, your team is better coordinated, more responsive and far more efficient than providers who use traditional paper charts. This is because they have instant access to your electronic record, which contains your current medical history, latest scans, test results, prescriptions and other medical information, so they can create for you a care plan that is truly "better connected."

Throughout your treatment process, you'll also have your own personal advocate: a nurse navigator. Nurse navigators are here not only to answer any questions you may have, but to provide support and guidance. They work with your physician and are there for you every step of the way. If you're facing gynecological or breast cancer, you even have the option of being treated by female physicians, technicians and nurse navigators, if that's your preference.

A Commitment to Research, a Network of Support

Since 1983, The MultiCare Regional Cancer Center has been involved with cancer research as part of the Community Clinical Oncology Program (CCOP). The CCOP program was recently redesigned and is now called the NCI Community Oncology Research Program (NCORP). The Northwest NCORP, of which MultiCare is a part, is one of only 34 community research programs in the United States.

On average, there are 60 cancer research studies open and available to cancer patients at MultiCare. At MultiCare, we also conduct our own research programs that include clinical trials of investigational medications that are not yet commercially available, for cancer and other diseases. As a result of this research, our patients often have early access to promising anti-cancer drugs and drug combinations, radiation therapies and surgical techniques that may offer additional hope for their cancer.

Clinical Trials Through Seattle Cancer Care Alliance

MultiCare Regional Cancer Center is a network affiliate of the Seattle Cancer Care Alliance. Our patients have access to the world-renowned clinical trials the SCCA offers, while still staying comfortably close to home.

Accredited by the American College of Surgeons Commission on Cancer MultiCare Regional Cancer Center received this prestigious accreditation for all five locations for cancer care following an inspection process and a rigorous review of its performance. The award goes to health care facilities that are committed to providing the highest level of care to patients.

The Cancer Center received special recognition for our commitment to placing patients in clinical trials, our involvement in the community in early detection and prevention of cancer and our continued commitment to improve the care patients receive.

We all have the power to help and the power to give hope. That's what Be The MatchSM is about. It's about helping patients. Be The Match is the new name for the registry operated by the National Marrow Donor Program (NMDP). We've been helping patients receive the transplants they need for more than 20 years.

We introduced Be The Match in 2009 to meet this need by engaging a growing community of people inspired and committed to help patients in any way they can—by joining the registry, donating umbilical cord blood, contributing financially or getting involved. It's about finding a match.

Be The Match offers people the unique opportunity to help a patient by donating bone marrow or umbilical cord blood. Thousands of patients with leukemia and other life-threatening diseases depend upon Be The Match Registry to find a match. Many have already stepped forward—but many more are needed. If you've already joined the NMDP Registry, you are a member of Be The Match Registry and do not need to join again.

Be the one to give hope: Join the registry; make a financial contribution; get involved; donate umbilical cord blood.

Email: OvarianAndBreastCancerAllianceWA@comcast.net

The Ovarian & Breast Cancer Alliance is a nonprofit organization dedicated to promoting lifesaving early detection of ovarian and breast cancer through education and awareness. The Alliance educates women and the healthcare community about the early warning signs and risk factors of ovarian cancer.

It is important to listen to your body and see your healthcare professional promptly if your symptoms are:

- New or unusual
- Persistent or becoming more severe
- Occur almost daily or every other day
- Persist for more than a few weeks
- Or, if you have multiple symptoms

The following are common ovarian cancer symptoms.

- Bloating or increased abdomen size
- Pelvic or abdominal pain
- Feeling full quickly or unable to eat normally
- Urinary symptoms (urgency or frequency)
- Persistent indigestion, gas, or nausea

A PAP TEST IS NOT A TEST FOR OVARIAN CANCER. For women with symptoms, tests may include: Vaginal/Rectal Pelvic Exam, Transvaginal Ultrasound, CA125 Blood Test, CT Scan, or MRI.

If you are an ovarian cancer survivor, we invite you to join our Speakers Bureau and help educate women and the healthcare community about ovarian cancer symptoms by sharing your ovarian cancer story.

Puget Sound Clean Air Agency

1904 Third Avenue, Suite 105, Seattle, WA 98101

800-552-3565

www.pscleanair.org

When it comes to our health, we all make choices to keep ourselves and our loved ones active and healthy for a lifetime. Why should we expect anything less than healthy air to breathe? The Puget Sound Clean Air Agency works to ensure outdoor air is healthy in King, Kitsap, Pierce and Snohomish counties. In the Puget Sound region, pollutants such as air toxics, ozone and fine particle pollution cause or aggravate health problems such as respiratory ailments, heart disease and cancer.

Through implementing programs and other actions, the Puget Sound Clean Air Agency reduces harmful air pollution and protects air quality. Air quality is a special concern in Tacoma and Pierce County, where wintertime levels of fine particle pollution are unhealthy and violate the federal Clean Air Act. Most of this pollution comes from wood smoke associated with burning wood in wood stoves and fireplaces. The whole community will need to help solve this problem and programs will soon be in place to reduce wood smoke pollution in our area and keep Tacoma and Pierce County a healthy place to live and breathe.

To learn more about how these programs may impact you and your family, visit www.cleanairpiercecounty.org.

Tobacco Prevention & Control Program (Chronic Disease Integration)

E-mail: syeun@tpchd.org

The Vision of Tacoma-Pierce County Health Department Public Health Prevention Priorities is committed to help the public to understand the key health issues and how to reduce risks and behaviors that impact health overall.

The PHPP program provides trainings, capacity building, technical support and fosters leadership for health education and awareness through community engagement. The Department Mission is to safeguard and enhance the health of the communities of Pierce County. The Public Health Prevention Priorities (PHPP) Program focuses on:

- Active Living and Healthy Eating
- Tobacco Prevention & Control
- Ethnic Senior Health
- Violence Prevention
- Chronic Disease Prevention and Education

PHPP is also committed to finding solutions and answers that move the county forward in Reducing Health Disparities – the elements that influence health disparities are complex, and their interactions are largely unknown. Recent studies show that despite steady improvements in the overall health of the United States population, racial and ethnic minorities experience a lower quality of health services, are less likely to receive routine medical procedures and have higher rates of morbidity and mortality than non-minorities.

The Young Survival Coalition (YSC) is the only international network of breast cancer survivors and supporters dedicated to the critical concerns and issues unique to young women and breast cancer. Through action, advocacy and awareness, the YSC seeks to educate and influence the medical, research, breast cancer and legislative communities to address breast cancer in Women 40 and under, and to serve as a point of contact for young women living with breast cancer.

We focus on the issues that many young women with breast cancer face including the shock of being diagnosed so young; issues surrounding fertility, pregnancy, and adoption; treatment and surgery options that work best for young women, coping with young children; building and maintaining our careers; premature menopause; the impact of this disease on relationships (including family members, friends and coworkers); the pros and cons of genetic testing; body and self-image issues.

Since 2002, we are proud to have served over 100 young women with breast cancer and their caregivers locally. We provide support during the crisis of diagnosis or recurrence, peer support to help members through treatment, surgeries, and ongoing support as women gradually process their experience and find their “new normal.”

A CAREGIVER'S BILL OF RIGHTS

I have the right to take care of myself. This is not an act of selfishness. It will give me the ability to take better care of my loved one.

I have the right to seek help from others even though my loved one may object. I know the limits of my own endurance and strength.

I have the right to maintain parts of my own life that do not include the person I care for, just as I would if he were healthy. I know that I do everything that I reasonably can do for this person. I have the right to do some things just for myself.

I have the right to get angry, be depressed, and express difficult feelings once in a while.

I have the right to reject any attempt by my loved one to make me do things out of guilt or anger. (It doesn't matter if she knows that she is doing it or not.)

I have the right to get consideration, affection, forgiveness, and acceptance for what I do for my loved one, as I offer these in return.

I have the right to take pride in what I'm doing. And I have the right to applaud the courage it has taken to meet the needs of my loved one.

I have the right to protect my individuality. I also have the right to a life that will sustain me in times when my loved one no longer needs my full-time help.
